WARREN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT SUPPORTS EDUCATION
SOUTH WARREN MIDDLE SCHOOL NAMED VIDEO PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT WINNER

BOWLING GREEN, KY - The Warren County Water District continues to promote education as part of its overall community involvement efforts to promote Drinking Water Week, May 6-12. Warren Water sponsored their second-annual video public service announcement (PSA) contest, giving local students the opportunity to capture their interpretations of water as an essential natural resource. South Warren Middle School took first place honors in the contest and Rich Pond Elementary took second.

South Warren Middle School's Student Technology Leadership Program (STLP) will be awarded a $100 prize during an award ceremony on May 1st at 1:30 at South Warren Middle School. The winning PSA has been running on WBKO since April 23 and will run through May 7. Rich Pond Elementary's STLP will receive a $50 prize.

"South Warren Middle School created an excellent PSA that demonstrated the spirit of Drinking Water Week," said Alan Vilines, general manager of Warren Water. "We are proud to partner with Warren County Public Schools. These students continue to do outstanding work that demonstrates their knowledge and technical expertise."

Warren Water has been actively promoting Earth Day and Drinking Water Week through school presentations and poster contests, library events, and television and radio interviews.
